MVD Communications Acquires Lenoco Technologies

CINCINNATI, Ohio – February 5, 2007 – MVD Communications, one of the region’s largest phone system providers, announced today that it has acquired Lenoco Technologies, headquartered in Indianapolis, Indiana. “This acquisition underscores MVD’s commitment to the Indiana marketplace to be one of the leading phone system equipment and support providers. We are very excited about this Indiana expansion and its outlining areas,” said Jeff Black, Founder and CEO of MVD Communications. “Since its inception, MVD has had a strong acquisition strategy.”

“We are working very closely with Lenoco to ensure that this transition is seamless for its loyal Avaya customer base,” Black said. “We have a strong commitment to the Indiana community and will continue to deliver first-in-class customer service that both Lenoco and MVD customers expect.” Final details of the acquisition were completed at the end of January. As of February 1, Lenoco employees are working out of the MVD Indiana office located at 1445 Brookville Way - Suite C, Indianapolis, Indiana.

“MVD Communications is recognized as a long-term, strategic business partner with a proven track-record for implementing and supporting Avaya phone systems,” said Tim O’Connell, founder of Lenoco Technologies. “Businesses are looking for a partner they can trust to implement the right IP Telephony solution, in a manner and timeframe that is advantageous for their business. As a combined company, MVD Communications and Lenoco Technologies represent a substantial resource in the Indiana marketplace.”
